

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

VOL. XXIX.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1907.

No. 112.

OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Spirited Contest For Chairman, Won By Radford.

FOWLER VICE CHAIRMAN

Tobacco Association's County Committee Organized Saturday.

The election of officers of the county Tobacco Association Saturday developed an interesting contest for chairman.

The newly elected delegates were called to order at a few minutes after 2 o'clock by Chairman W. W. Radford and R. C. Rives was elected temporary chairman.

A roll call of the 30 districts of the county showed all of them represented except No. 28, Barker's Mill. The members present are here given, representing the 29 districts numbered consecutively: J. J. Barnes, E. W. Walker, W. S. Harned, S. G. Buckner, J. M. Renshaw, J. M. Anderson, Dr. Jno. P. Bell, J. T. Steger, M. B. King, N. O. Allen, Dr. J. L. Barker, Lewis Western, W. A. Glass, W. H. Smith, W. H. Jones, F. M. Quarles, D. F. Perry, W. B. Garner, T. L. Moss, R. C. Rives, W. H. Butler, John East, J. K. Thomas, W. S. McCord, D. P. Downey, Geo.

Earnes, C. B. Powell, Prentice Mercer and G. L. Campbell.

Chairman W. W. Radford and Vice-Chairman W. T. Fowler were placed in nomination for chairman and a resolution was adopted providing for vote by secret ballot. The vote was taken and the hat placed on the table with the ballots in it. At this point Judge Fowler asked to make a statement and he was given a hearing for nearly half an hour, in which he appealed to the members to vote for the best interests of the association and not from personal or political motives. Mr. Radford followed Judge Fowler in a similar well-timed speech, at the conclusion of which Dr. Barker moved that the ballots be destroyed and a new ballot be taken. This was done and Mr. Radford was re-elected by a vote of 17 to 12.

The vote for vice-chairman resulted W. T. Fowler 17, R. H. McCaughey 5, Dr. J. L. Barker, 5. Judge Fowler's re-election was made unanimous, on motion of both of his opponents.

Secretary W. A. Glass was re-elected by acclamation, though he protested against the honor. He was prevailed upon to accept.

The committee is composed of a fine body of men, representing the best citizenship of the county.

Quite a number of the business men of the city were interested lookers on at the election.

If you haven't the time to exercise regularly, Doan's Regulets will prevent constipation. They induce a mild, easy, healthful action of the bowels without griping. Ask your druggist for them. 25c.

Detective T. J. Cundiff was here last week after an absence of some time. He will return next week.

MANY SUITS ON LAST DAY

Damages Asked in Several Cases Filed Last Friday.

CITY SUES AND IS SUEED.

S. C. Mercer Brings Heavy Damage Suits Against Son and Son-In-Law.

Friday was the last day for filing suits and several of more or less importance were filed at the last moment.

The city of Hopkinsville brought a suit against Winfree & Knight to recover from them a public roadway on West Seventh Street leading down to the ford south of the bridge. In 1893 the Tabernacle association bought a tract of land extending to "the west bank of Little River," at that time about 100 feet from the water, the valley of the river being occupied by the city, as a driveway leading to the water. In 1900 the tabernacle association sold a narrow slip of land on the eastern side of its lot to Winfree & Knight for $400 and decided to them the roadway and public ford, "to the low water line of the river." The purchasers thereupon closed up the roadway and erected unsightly frame buildings, perched on high trestles, along the front of the lot on Seventh street. It is to recover the public lands thus occupied that the city sues.

Miss Dorothy Adams and John Ducker sued the city of Hopkinsville and the Meacham Construction Co. for $7,500 and $5,000 respectively for injuries sustained on the night of Aug. 16. They were returning from Pembroke in a buggy and at the corner of Ninth and Campbell streets drove over a pile of cinders to be used in pavement building. Mr. Ducker was thrown out and Miss Adams remained in the buggy until the horse reached the postoffice when she jumped out. They both sustained injuries that laid them up for several days. The pile of cinders occupied only a small portion of the street, leaving a clear space 25 feet wide, being located between two electric street lights. The statement given out at the time was that Mr. Ducker was attempting to pass another buggy when the accident occurred.

Ophelia Johnson sued the I. C. Railroad Co. for $1,000 damages, alleging that she and her two children contracted pneumonia from riding in a car not supplied with heat, Dec. 25, 1906, while going from Hopkinsville to Paducah.

J. P. Meacham, of Gracey, brought suit against against the Cumberland Telephone Company for $500 damages, for the removal of a phone without orders from the residence of his father-in-law, B. B. Nance, at Pee Dee. The phone was put in and paid for by the plaintiff and he alleges that defendant has refused to put the instrument back, leaving Mr. Nance without a telephone since last May. Plaintiff asks damages and an injunction compelling the company to replace the phone under the former contract.

S. C. Mercer sues Dr. F. P. Thomas and Prentice Mercer for $25,000 damages for their refusal to let him occupy the Mercer homestead, now the property of Prentice Mercer, and he also brings suit against the latter to set aside a deed which surrendered the plaintiff's life interest in the homestead. The litigation grows out of the unpleasantness that followed Mr. Mercer's recent marriage, to which his children were much opposed.

Walter M. Massie sues the L. & N. Railroad for $500 damages, alleging that the conductor of passenger train No 52 on Sept. 7, ejected him from the train which he had boarded at Pembroke, although he tendered the fare in money.

John Young sues the I. C. Railroad Co. for $100 damages caused by a fire resulting from a locomotive, which set fire to a field of clover; and also $200 damages from a fill in the same field, which he alleges causes some of his land to be inundated.

The Texas Wonder.

Cures all Kidney, Bladder and Rheumatism troubles; sold by all druggists, or two months' treatment by mail for $1. Dr. E. W. Hall, 2928 Olive street, St. Louis Mo. Send for Kentucky testimonials.

The Travelers Pay.

Mrs. J. M. Campbell, Agent Travelers: I desire to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of your check for $274.28, covering in full my claim in the Travelers for injuries sustained in a railroad wreck. The fact the claim was paid without the least delay or hindrance is particularly gratifying. I fully recognize the worth of the splendid institution you represent and am glad to take this method of expressing my sincere appreciation.

Yours respectfully,
R. E. Cooper.

Bruised by a Fall.

Mr. Lucian H. Davis received a bad fall while at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Low Johnson, Sunday. While romping in the lawn with some young people, he slipped and fell on some new made pike. One knee was painfully cut and his face and hands suffered many abrasions. He is out, but looks like he had been playing football.

How to Remain Young.

To continue young in health and strength do as Mrs. N. F. Rowan, McDonough, Ga., did. She says: "Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured me of chronic liver and stomach trouble, complicated with such an unhealthy condition of the blood that my skin turned red as flannel. I am now practically 20 years younger than before I took Electric Bitters. I can now do all my work with ease and assist in my husband's store." Guaranteed at R. C. Hardwick's drug store. Price 50c.

PYRAMIDS OF EGYPT

The Theme of Dr. Jenkins Sermon Sunday Night

Rev. Millard A. Jenkins preached to an audience of about 500 Sunday night on Egypt, his subject being "In the Shadow of the Pyramid." It was admittedly one of the finest sermons of his travel series. Many members of other churches were present to hear him. Dr. Jenkins announced that he would spend a part of this week at Fairview helping Pastor Vaughan in a meeting that has been in progress a week or more with the assistance of Dr. Powell. It is Dr. Jenkins' intention to return tomorrow night to conduct the prayer meeting service. He talks on "Christian Conduct" every Wednesday evening are drawing unusually large crowds to the weekly prayer meetings.

Stops earache in two minutes; toothache or pain of burn or scald in five minutes; earache, sore throat, muscleache, two hours; sore throat, twelve hours—Dr. Thomas Electric Oil, monarch over pain.

The Davies county fair will open to-day.

Fall Goods!

New Gingham,
New Percales,
New Carpets.

New Rugs and Matting,
New Oil Cloth,
New Linoleum.

Cut Prices on Summer Goods.

T. M. JONES,

Main Street.

Hopkinsville, Ky.

YOUR WILL

should be cautiously guarded; it should be placed beyond the reach of those who might be interested in its disappearance. These documents, you know, sometimes mysteriously vanish. But they are always safe when deposited in our vault.

BANK OF HOPKINSVILLE,
Hopkinsville, Ky.

Henry C. Gant, President. J. E. McPherson, Cashier.
H. L. McPherson, Asst-Cashier.

Geo. C. Long, President. C. F. Jarrett, Vice-President.
Thos. W. Long, Cashier, Bailey Russell, Asst Cashier.

First National Bank, OF HOPKINSVILLE, - KY.

UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY
THE ONLY NATIONAL BANK IN THE CITY.

Solicits accounts of individuals and corporations desiring a safe place of deposit or accommodations on approved security. Three per cent. interest paid on Time Certificates of Deposit. Safety Deposit Boxes for Customers.

We invite you to start an account in our Savings Department and will lend a handsome and useful Pocket Book Savings Bank Free to Our Depositors.

E. B. LONG, President. W. T. TANDY, Cashier.

CITY BANK

Capital, $60,000.00
Surplus, $70,000.00

This Bank ranks among the first in the state of Kentucky in proportion of surplus to capital.

In Surplus there is Strength.

We invite your account as a safe depository for your funds. Deposit your valuable papers in our vault—safe from fire and burglars.

3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS

Save Your Money

Be Happy. Be Wise.

Money saved is money made. We pay 3 per cent. on Time Certificates of Deposit for six or twelve months. We want your business, no matter how small. We extend to every one the same courteous treatment. Now is the time to open an account with the Planters Bank & Trust Co.

Also acts as Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Guardian, and Agent. Will take care of your valuable papers, and lend you money on real estate or personal security.

BUYS AND SELLS REAL ESTATE.

That hacking cough continues Because your system is exhausted and your powers of resistance weakened.

Take Scott's Emulsion.

It builds up and strengthens your entire system.
It contains Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites so prepared that it is easy to take and easy to digest.

ALL DRUGGISTS: 50c. AND $1.00

DISPATCH

A constant aim to give the best and quickest service, a capable and conservative management and strictly up-to-date methods are the reasons for the unusual success of this bank.

THE NEW BANK.

Hardwick

Will sell Pianos, organs and Sewing Machines at factory prices.

Hardwick

Has the most complete stock of Drugs in the city. Registered Pharmacists in charge of Prescription Department.

Hardwick

Does expert Jewelry Repairing and Fine Watch and Clock Work. And has the greatest assortment of Art Novelties, Jewelry, Cut Glass, Watches, Clocks, Diamonds and Precious Stones, Sterling and Silver Plated Hollow and Flat Ware.

R. C. Hardwick, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Mica Axle Grease
Helps the Wagon up the Hill

The load seems lighter—Wagon and team wear longer—You make more money, and have more time to make money, when wheels are greased with

Mica Axle Grease

—The longest wearing and most satisfactory lubricant in the world.
STANDARD OIL CO.

It Is Worth Your While To Remember

That We Are Giving Votes
In The PIANO CONTEST.

WE

Have added extensively to our already large stock, in preparation for fall business and were never in better shape
to supply your wants
than at the present time : : :

It Will Afford Us Pleasure
To Show You Our Stock
At Any Time.

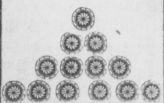

Hopkinsville Lumber Co.

Incorporated.

Seventeenth St. And Canton Road.

Why Buy
Wire
and
Wire Fence
Now
?

Planters Hardware Co.

Incorporated

South Main St.

Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

Because

If you buy it now
you will have it
on hand just when you want it.

Because

If you buy it a little out of season

You Can SAVE Money

We handle American field fence
and best grades of BARBED and SMOOTH WIRE.

TRIBUTE TO STANLEY.

An Admirer Sizes Him Up as Neither Saint Nor Devil.

The wire has told you of the immense gathering of Kentucky and Tennessee tobacco growers at Hopkinsville on August 31st to hear the Hon. A. O. Stanley's defense of the co-operating farmers against the malevolent assaults of the Tobacco Trust's press agents.

I wish every member of the Stemming District Tobacco Association could have been there. Thousands of happy, hopeful, prosperous farmers were there and I judge that there were quite fifteen hundred from Tennessee in that vast throng. For second to Felix Ewing alone is Stanley placed by Tennesseans in the upbuilding of that immortal aggregation known as the Dark Tobacco Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia. I have heard the most prominent leaders down there ungrudgingly yield that place to Stanley. And the rank and file of the membership, whether Kentuckians or Tennesseans, simply idolize the great young leader who has donated so much of his time and money to freeing the tobacco growers of that vast district from the galling chains of Trust slavery. During the first two years of the existence of that association Stanley was ever at the beck and call of Felix Ewing. Night or day, rain or shine, fair weather or foul weather, when the summons came from Felix Ewing it met with prompt compliance on the part of Stanley. For Stanley knew that the sick leader was hard pressed and all but exhausted and overwhelmed by the fierce assaults of the powerful and merciless Tobacco Trust. And the gratitude of Felix Ewing knew no bounds, as was evidenced by his generous tender of compensation to Stanley for his timely and invaluable services. But Stanley would none of it; "I can't," he simply said to Mr. Ewing. "I cannot take compensation for my services in this noble cause. My people have been good and generous to me, and it has afforded me the keenest delight to seize the first great opportunity where my capacities supplied me with sufficient power to be of some assistance to my oppressed, insulted and plundered farmer friends. Leave to me the comforting reflection it was done without thought of compensation."

Service is religion; service to one's fellow man; service to some noble cause.

Measured by that standard Stanley is a saint.

Seems odd—seems sorter reckless—to call Stanley a saint—don't it?

Trust people call him Night Rider, Devil, Demagogue.

Wit is definition. Define man? Any individual? At best a mere approximation. Define a Stanley? Impossible!

Since it is impossible to any to define Stanley, this writer has as good right as any other to attempt it; say then, liberally, he is half child and half genius, with flashes of illuminating executive practicality, a fascinating reincarnation combination of Dickey, Steele, Oliver Goldsmith, Brinsley, Sheridan, Chief-Justice Robertson and the Count of Monte Cristo. For he is essayist, poet, dramatist, great lawyer, great orator and Henry Grady all in one. Actually all that or potentially so. Neither saint nor devil, nor yet Night Rider—rather a big-brained, big-hearted lovable sinner. And with all a rattling good congressman and most efficient Trust buster.

Go thy way old Mirabeau and Israel Putnam rolled in one, since thou canst not go another's. And I guess, yes, that Stanley and Bobby Burns will somewhere, sometime be rewarded for services to humanity. For it is my belief Stanley as a statesman is as clean as a star.—James N. Banks, in Henderson Gleaner.

GO RIGHT AT IT.

Friends and Neighbors in Hopkinsville Will Show
You How.

Get at the root of the trouble.
Rubbing an aching back may relieve it.

But it won't cure it.
You must reach the root of it—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills go right at it;
Reach the cause; relieve the pain.
Mrs. Eva Hobbs, living on North
Seminary Street, Madisonville, Ky.,

says: "I have no hesitancy in recommending the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills, as they are, without doubt, the best kidney medicine in the world. When they permanently cured me of my trouble in the summer of 1903, I allowed my experience to be published in our local papers so that others who suffer as I did might know what course to pursue to get relief. I was a sufferer for years with terrible pains through my kidneys and down through my loins.
There were such bearing down pains at times that I actually had to give up and lie down until the pain subsided. The secretions from the kidneys were irregular in action and painful, in passing. I tried remedy after remedy, rubbing my back with liniment, and wore plasters but received little or no relief. Doan's Kidney Pills made a complete and permanent cure four years ago, and it only required two boxes to do it.
I have been perfectly free from any kidney complaint ever since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents.

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Kentucky Fair Dates.

The following are the dates fixed for holding the Kentucky fairs for 1907, as far as reported:

Kentucky State Fair Louisville
Sept. 16-21.
Seabree Sept. 18-21.
Falmouth Sept. 25-28.
Mt. Olivet Oct. 3-5.
Mayfield Oct. 1-5.
Bardwell Oct. 15-16.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature
of

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Cast H. Fletcher

700 STUDENTS WANTED

To qualify for the 700 or more desirable positions that we will be called upon to fill in the next year. We had 504 such able in the last year.
Our graduates are in such great demand and our reputation is so high we are unable to meet the demand for our graduates.
We are looking for men of this day and age. If you are a man of high character and high ability and are willing to take the course of study that we offer, you can not only obtain a high grade of education but also a high salary. We are looking for men of high character and high ability
and are willing to take the course of study that we offer. You can not only obtain a high grade of education but also a high salary. We are looking for men of high character and high ability
and are willing to take the course of study that we offer.

DRYANT & STAPTON BUSINESS COLLEGE, Second & Walnut, Louisville, Ky.

Incorporated

BUTTER!

Choice Country 25c PER POUND

Complete Line Fresh Vegetables Received Daily.

Both Phones. B. B. RICE

Popular Purveyors of Pure Food Products.

ONLY BIG SHOW

POSITIVELY

COMING!

HOPKINSVILLE,

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 18th.

E. E. Wallace.

Carl Hagenbeck.

THE

CARL

HAGENBECK

AND GREAT

Wallace Shows

COMBINED

And the Far-Famed

TRAINED WILD BEASTS EXHIBITION.

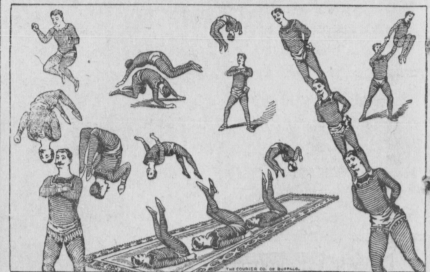

GRAND
GREAT GLOIOUS

CIRCUS

BEST BIGGEST BRIGHTEST

MILLION DOLLAR MENAGERIE

1,000 People Employed. 85 Cars. 12
Big Water Tight Tents. 500 Animals.
20 Elephants. 20 Camels.

America's Biggest and Finest Tented Amusement Enterprise. Monster Zoological Collection. Most Astonishing Trained Wild Animals
the World has ever known. A Gigantic Show in itself. Three Rings Completely Filled with Hundreds of Features and Performers. Highest Salaried American and European Artists.
Exciting Royal Roman Hippodrome. Mammoth Whirl of Novelties.

40-FUNNY, FROLICsome, FRISKY CLOWNS-40

THE HAGENBECK & GREAT WALLACE PARADE

Without Exaggeration the Finest Free Street Turnout ever presented. Our Gigantic String of Gorgeous Pageantry. A Glittering mass of Brilliance and Bands Galore.

Reserved Seat Sale at Anderson-Fowler Drug Co.,
(INCORPORATED.)

The Kentuckian.

Published Every Other Day,
TUESDAY, THURSDAY AND SATURDAY
MORNINGS, BY
CHAS. M. MEACHAM.

Entered at the Hopkinsville Postoffice as Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

One Year, $2.00
Six Months, $1.25
Three Months, .75
Single Copies, .10

Advertising Rates on Application.

212 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

SEPT. 17, 1907.

McCracken county broke all records by sending 25 convicts to the penitentiary at one term off court.

A gentleman who was in Murray last week brings the news that John Keys is back in Calloway county this year bolting the Democratic ticket.

The editor of the Kentuckian will have to forego the pleasure of a visit to the State Fair in Louisville this week, as he is this month performing the duties of the entire business and editorial force. Both of his assistants in these departments are on vacation, one in New York and the other in Virginia.

SOLD FOR TAXES.

Several Lots Passed Under The Hammer Yesterday

Several town lots upon which city taxes were due were sold yesterday at public outcry by Collector H. C. Moore. Nearly all of the lots were bid in by the city. The taxes amounted to from $5 to $2 on each lot. All but one were listed by colored people.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm. W. ALDING, KINMAN & MARVIN.

Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75c per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

COAL!

Notice to Stock Holders.

All Stock-Holders' wagons will be loaded at The New Times and Tipton Old Petersburg on the Madisonville and Hopkinsville big road, just beyond Empire—Good road and plenty of coal.

Call at office for order blanks for coal.

By Order Board of Directors.

TERRY COAL & COKE CO.

Incorporated.

Notice To The Public.

On the 18th of September, a show day, we will close our business hours on account of Jewish holiday, Yom Kippur. All the Hebrews of the city will hold their services on Sixth street at H. Bohn's rabbi, resident place. Beginning on the 17th at 6 p. m. to 9 p. m. Then on the 18th from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Call and get bargains at the New York store and branch store No. 12 Sixth street. The fall will close up our business.

Resp't.
H. BOHN.

Miss Maggie Tucker has resigned her position as cashier at Cooper's grocery and will shortly leave for Nashville to live.

Found at Last.

J. A. Harmon, of Lizenore, West Va., says: "At last I have found the perfect pill that never disappoints me; and for the benefit of others afflicted with torpid liver and chronic constipation, I will say: take Dr. King's New Life Pills." Guaranteed satisfactory. 22c at R. C. Hardwick's, druggist.

Rheumatism

Is one of the constitutional diseases. It manifests itself in local aches and pains, inflamed joints and stiff muscles—but it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires constitutional treatment, and the best is a course of the great blood purifying and tonic medicine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla which neutralizes the acidity of the blood and builds up the whole system. In usual liquid form or in chocolate tablets known as Sarsaparilla, 100 doses $1.

Foot Ball.

Candidates for the High School Foot Ball Team have been practicing daily for several weeks, and the first game of the season will be played Saturday, Sept. 21, between the second S. K. C. team and the High School. Several other games have also been arranged.

Saved Her Son's Life.

The happiest mother in the little town of Ava, Mo., is Mrs. S. Rupee. She writes: "One year ago my son was down with such serious lung trouble that our physician was unable to help him; when, by our druggist's advice, I began giving him Dr. King's New Discovery, and I soon noticed improvement. I kept this treatment up for a few weeks when he was perfectly well. He has worked steadily since at carpenter work. Dr. King's New Discovery saved his life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure by E. C. Hardwick, druggist. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Fraternal Order of Eagles

Will meet on Tuesday night the 17th of September. All members are expected to be present by 7:30 o'clock prompt. Degree work to be done. This 16th day of Sept. 1907.

F. G. PETER, W. P.
By J. E. BUCHANAN, S. W.

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store.

Personal Gossip.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. C. Payne, of Jackson, Tenn., left for home Saturday, after a visit to friends here.

Mrs. Ford L. Wilkinson, of Pensacola, Fla., is visiting Mrs. T. J. McReynolds.

Ellis McKee, of Jonesboro, Ark., is here on a visit to his parents.

Miss Maude Shanklin, the popular young milliner, for the past four years with the S. B. Hooser Co., has accepted a position with the Kennedy Co. and will be pleased to see all her old patrons and friends at her new place of business.

Miss Laura Chambers, who has spent the summer with Mrs. L. L. Leavelle, returned yesterday to Louisville to complete her studies in a college near the city.

Mrs. H. M. Frankel and son, Malcolm, left Saturday for Staunton, Va. Malcolm will attend the Virginia Military Academy.

Mrs. Clarie Fletcher VanCleave, of St. Louis, is visiting Mrs. Green H. Russell.

Bids Opened.

The Fiscal Court met yesterday to open bids for turnpike construction on various roads. The Oriental Construction Co. had a general bid for each of the roads, bids running from $2,258 up to $3,775 per mile for 12-foot pike and $1,600 to $1,650 for 9-foot road.

Other scattering bids were received. W. F. Deason bid $2,800 on the Nashville road for 3 miles and A. M. Miller $2,150. The Oriental's bid was $2,258. Deason also bid $1,850 on Butler road.

The contracts have not been awarded yet.

Most disfiguring skin eruptions, scrofula, pimples, rashes, etc., are due to impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is a cleansing blood tonic. Makes you clear-eyed, clear-brained, clear-skinned.

For Sale.

Choice building lots, high, dry and beautiful. On the widest avenue in the city, with uniform shade trees and will have uniform granite pavements with four feet of grass on either side, to the curb. Alumni avenue loops the two most popular residence streets in the city and will be the boulevard of Hopkinsville. See M. F. CRENSHAW.

RUSSELL-VANCLEVE.

Young Couple Wedded On "Friday the 13th."

Friday is not considered a lucky day for weddings, either the 13th in great fear, but a pretty young Hopkinsville girl showed her contempt for superstitious ideas by wedding the man of her choice on "Friday the 13th." Miss Erminie Vancleave spent last week visiting her brother, T. C. VanCleave, in Cadiz. Friday, Mr. T. M. Russell, of Elktion, her fiancé, arrived here and arranged for a wedding with romantic features. Miss VanCleave left Cadiz on the afternoon train for home. There is a lay-over of several hours between trains at Grace, and Mr. Russell concluded to secure the license, take a preacher with him and go to Grace after his bride in an automobile.

Rev. A. P. Lyon was quickly engaged and they sped over the ten miles to Grace in less than an hour and at 6 o'clock the couple were united. The wedding party returned at once, arriving here at 8 o'clock and Mr. and Mrs. Russell took the night train for Louisville on a bridal tour.

The bride is the attractive young daughter of Mr. John C. VanCleave, who lives three miles out of town on the Clarksville pike. The groom is a representative of one of the prominent families of Todd county.

IN TROUBLE EARLY

Three Small Boys Charged With Housebreaking.

Ed Coleman and Herschel Combs, two small white boys, were arrested yesterday charged with entering the Planters Hardware Co's store and stealing 8 guns and 15 pocket knives. Coleman and Combs when arrested confessed and implicated another boy named Jim Meers. All but one of the guns and all of the knives except four were recovered. They said they found a back door in the basement open and made two trips, Saturday night and the Saturday night before.

As the cases go into the juvenile court and Judge Breathitt was out of town yesterday, their trials were not held. The parents of the two boys under arrest, it is said, are disposed to let them be sent to the Reformatory.

DO YOU GET UP

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable. Almost everybody who reads the news papers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century—discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

...HOLLAND'S...

OPERA HOUSE

Wednesday Sept. 18,

F. G. CONRAD

Presents

Rodney Renous

IN

ALEXANDER DUMAS'

MONTE CRISTO.

With all scenery and accessories.

Prices:—25c, 35c, 50c, 75c.

Seats now on sale at Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

The General Condemnation of So-Called Patent or Secret Medicines of an injurious character, which indulge in extravagant and unfounded pretensions to cure all manner of ills, and the National Legislation Enacted to Restrict Their Sale have established more clearly than could have been accomplished in any other way

The Value and Importance of Ethical Remedies.

Remedies which physicians sanction for family use, as they act most beneficially and are gentle yet prompt in effect, and called ethical, because they are of Known Excellence and Quality and of Known Component Parts.

To gain the full confidence of the Well-Informed of the world and the approval of the most eminent physicians, it is essential that the component parts be known to and approved by them, and, therefore, the California Fig Syrup Company has published for many years past in its advertisements and upon every package a full statement thereof. The perfect purity and uniformity of product which they demand in a laxative remedy of an ethical character are assured by the California Fig Syrup Company's original method of manufacture, known to the Company only.

There are other ethical remedies approved by physicians, but the product of the California Fig Syrup Company possesses the advantage over all other family laxatives that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts, without disturbing the natural functions or any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of Syrup of Figs, and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtlessly it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs, and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for Syrup of Figs, or by the full name, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company, and the same heretofore known by the name, Syrup of Figs, which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO

Louisville, Ky.

San Francisco, Cal.
U. S. A.
London, England.

New York, N. Y.

THE DATE OF THE CARNIVAL SUPPLY FIXED.

HOPKINSVILLE,

HOPKINSVILLE,

Commencing

September 30

GALA WEEK AND FESTIVAL

Ending

October 5

Not a Week Sooner.

Not a Week Later.

HOPKINSVILLE "EAGLES"

Takes place in announcing that after having made an exhaustive investigation into the merits of the various Carnival Companies with a view to selecting one that combined a high grade of excellence, their choice is

The Famous Robinson Shows

Everywhere Conceded to be the Best.

The reputation of this company for furnishing pure, wholesome, clean, moral entertainment has never been equalled. They come endorsed by the press, clergy and people from everywhere they have exhibited, and will present at the Gala Week.

12 STRICTLY
MORAL SHOWS 12

4 DASHING, DARING
FREE ACTS 4

Including the Celebrated
Royal Italian Band.

The Eagles of Hopkinsville individually and collectively state their reputation that each individual attraction shall be moral and interesting and worthy of the patronage of any lady or gentleman and youth of both sexes of this or any other state. There will be something doing day and night. Thousands of electric lights will illuminate the city. The wondrous free acts will take place at intervals every day and every night. Let the week of September 30 to October 5 brighten your lives and gladden your hearts.

Messrs Chas. W. Wilson and W. B. Davis, of Crider, are visiting Mrs. Jas. West.

CASTORIA.
The Kid You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Dr. H. H. Fletcher

Fine Property For Sale.

I will sell my residence property on South Main street at a bargain. It is one of the most desirable homes in the city. A. W. PYLE.

Farm Property for Sale.

Two splendid tracts of land, three miles east of Hopkinsville on Russellville Pike, containing 262 acres and 133 acres more or less. One improved and other unimproved. J. O. COOK, Executor.

Misses Katie and Mary Nuckols, of Bell, are now at Cerulean Springs for a week or more.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kid You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of
Dr. H. H. Fletcher

ATTEND

FOX'S BUSINESS COLLEGE

And Take a

Course in

Bookkeeping, Shorthand,
and Telegraphy.

For Further Particulars
Call or Address

HAMPTON FOX,
Manager of Fox's
Business College

Phone 272,

HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

LOST—Setter bitch black and white, also setter dog red and white. Both have cheap collars on, reward if returned to C. L. DANIEL.

LOST—A lady's navy blue water-proof cape, on street yesterday. Return to this office and get reward.

SPECIAL

Reduction Sale

In order to make room for our Fall Goods we will sell our

REFRIGERATORS

At Greatly Reduced Prices.

We sell the celebrated Leonard Cleanable Dry Air Refrigerator. We will sell these so long as they last at the following prices:

Here are some of the many bargains we have for you.

One genuine Porcelain lined 110 pound ice capacity, our $28.00 former price $32.00, now.....

One fine line quality, the best 170 pound ice capacity, our $19.00

former price 24.00, now.....

One fine lined, our former price 15.00, now.....

W. A. P'POOL & SON.

On Accountof Holiday*Frankel's
BUSY STOREWill be Closed*Wednesday, Sept. 18.*Will Be Open as Usual Thursday Morning at 7:30

We make this announcement in order that our friends and customers may postpone their shopping until the day after the circus. For the benefit of those who wish to take advantage, we make Special Offerings for Thursday, Friday & Saturday3--Three days Only--3*Silk Special.

With the price of raw silk nearly double what it was a year ago, the following specials are remarkably low in price, while the values are as good as were ever offered.

Colored Taffeta Silk.59c a yard, worth 85c yard--all colors, 19 inches wide, Taffeta Silk, E. & A. quality, none better, real value 85c yard, for three days only 59c yard.85c Yard Black Taffeta Silk, Worth $1.00

Good quality Black Taffeta Silk, 36 inches wide, extra good $1.00 value, for three days only 85c yard.

49c Fancy Taffeta Suiting Silks Worth 75c49c 25 pieces 19 inch, Good quality, Fancy stripe and Plaid Silks for Suits and Shirtwaists worth 75c. 3 days only 49c.Dress Goods Specials.*1.65 yd all colors 52 inch wide Imported Broadcloths, in all the leading shades of Fall, cheap at regular price $2.00 yard For three days only $1.65 yard.25 Yard Bleached Table Damask

Good quality heavy cotton Damask, worth 35c yard, 60 inches wide. For 3 days only 25 cents a yard.

1.89 Bolt Long Cloth, Worth 2.251.89c 50 pieces Extra Good quality Long Cloth Cambric Finish, 12 yds to piece, worth $2.25 piece For 3 days only $1.8915c Yard, Plain Nainsook, Worth 20c Yard

Good quality plain Nainsook, soft finish, 30 inches wide. Worth 20c yard, for 3 days only 15 cents a yard.

8 1-2c Yd, Yard-Wide Bleached Domestic.

Good quality, soft finish, yard-wide, Bleached Domestic, worth 10c yard. For 3 days only 8 1/2c yard. ONLY TEN YARDS TO A CUSTOMER.

1.25 Black Broadcloth worth 1.50$1.25 yd Beautiful Lustrous quality 54 inch wide German Broadcloth, Black only, worth $1.50 yard, For 3 days only 1.25 yd.19c yd Mercerized Plaid Ginghams worth 25c*19c 15 pieces Beautiful Plaid "Silk" Ginghams, sold everywhere for 25c yd. For 3 days only 19c yd.1.25 yard, Altman Voiles, worth 1.50 yard

Altman Voiles in Black, Navy and Brown, 42 inches wide, worth $1.50. For 3 days only $1.25 yard.

50c yard, Mercerized Table Damask

Mercerized Table Damask, worth 65c yard, 70 inches wide, good values at regular price. For 3 days only at 50c yard.

Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Dept.SPECIAL THREE DAYS' SALE*Of Ladies' Suits, Ladies Fall Jackets, Ladies' Petticoats, Ladies' Muslin Underwear.

First showing of Fall Suits, tailor made and up-to-date, in all the new effects and lengths, 24, 27, 33, 38, 45 and 50 inch coat suits of Panama, Serge and Cloth in black and colors. Special 19.50 price for any new Fall suit, no two alike exclusive styles, none in the lot worth less than $25 to $35. Don't miss this opportunity, Thursday, Friday, Saturday only

$19.50FALL JACKETS

Covert cloths, just the thing for cool days at $5, $6.50 and $7.00.

KIMONAS.

A full stock of flannellet and silk kimonas, long and short, from $1.50 to $10.00.

EARLY FALL SALE

Of Muslin Underwear.

98c Muslin Gowns worth $1.25
79c " " " " " " " "
59c " " " " " " " "CORSET COVERS*19c For Corset Covers worth 25c
39c " " " " " " " "
49c " " " " " " " "MUSLIN DRAWERS*19c For Drawers worth 25c.
39c " " " " " " " "

Extra salespeople to wait on you so that you can shop quickly and not be here all day.

DON'T MISS THIS SALE.SILK PETTICOATS $3.75

One lot of Black only Silk Petticoats, deep ruffle, worth $5.00, at 3.75SKIRTS! SKIRTS! SKIRTS!

At less than the price of material. Colors only, no black in this lot.

3.75

100 ladies' and misses' dress skirts, side pleat, kilt, pleated and box pleat, most all shades, browns, blues, greens, red fancies and other mixtures none in the lot worth less than $5 to $6. Three days only

3.75Voile Dress Skirts $9.75.

One lot of Black, Blue and Brown Voile Skirts with 9 graduated folds of Taffeta Silk, 1 inch wide folds, a bargain at $12. 3 days only

$9.75

Others at 6.75 and 7.50. In all colors.

EXTRA! SPECIAL!9.75 to close out a small lot of Nobby Eton coat suits in fancy Weaves and Panama suits formerly sold at $15 to $18.MUSLIN SHIRT WAISTS*$1.00 Tucked Waist for $.75
1.50 Marie Antoinette 1.00Ladies' Misses' and Children's Shoes.

Are so well known is hardly necessary to go into detail, the same quality is retained as herebefore, even in the face of the advance of shoe leather. Such well known makes as Krohn & Fecneiner, Dutton-hoffer Sons, Douglas, Budd's Red Cross and others.

Men's and Young Men's Fall and Winter Clothes--best Known MakesBOY'S SCHOOL SUITS

Mothers, we are better prepared than ever before to offer you THE BEST BOY'S SCHOOL SUITS.

OUR SPECIALTIES.THE TUFF NUT $5.00 SUITS

For school boys, ages 7 to 17. Is in all wool Suits, fast colors and guaranteed to wear. Other suits for boys, ages 3 to 7, at $1.50 to $3.00.

THE SCHOOL SUIT

A four piece Suit, with coat, 2 pair pants and cap to match material. Thoroughly shrunken Pants, double kee and seat, worth more than the price

$5.00

Other Suits at 2.00 to 7.50.

ETTLINGER CLOTHES

Your new Fall clothes are ready for you now in our store and we are going to hold a special opening reception to introduce you to them. You're invited; and when you come you'll meet a lot of the finest clothes you ever saw. We feel that our good friends and our good clothes ought to know each other better.

There are Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes; and you can put it down as a fact that better clothes, more stylish, more perfectly tailored, never came from the hand of a tailor.

The new suits are in a number of very smart models and the patterns are varied enough to suit every taste--grays, browns, tans; in stripes, plaids and checks.

The new Fall overcoats are certainly very snappy; you'll find your kind here. It is hardly necessary to say that Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are always all-wool; you get no cotton mixture stuff under that name.

Other departments are full also of fine seasonal goods; hats of the latest blocks; shirts and neckwear like a regular flower garden of color and rich design.

We are showing all that's new and up-to-date in Men's Fine Shoes, Hats, furnishings and neckwear and can please the most fastidious. Swell Fancy Vests, Dress Shirts and Hosiery.

Copyright 1907 by
Hart Schaffner & Marx

Remember this store will be closed Wednesday Sept. 18th, on account of holiday, will be open as usual Thursday Morning.

OPENING GUN OF THE CAMPAIGN

Fired by Judge S. W. Hager the gubernatorial nominee, in presence of Democratic hosts at Lexington.

Party Platform Outlined, and Record of Deeds of the Party's Officials Reviewed.

Not a Dodger on Any Issue of the Campaign.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 21.—Before a vast concourse of Kentucky Democrats, assembled here today, Judge S. W. Hager of Boyd county, nominee of the party for governor of the commonwealth, made the opening speech of his campaign. Outlining a party platform, for the planks of which he stood when seeking the nomination, and which was adopted by the voters of the party when they nominated him; pointing out the many good features of Democratic administration in the past seven and one-half years, and reassuring the people of the state that Kentucky will not be behind in progressiveness in the next four years if Democracy is continued in power, Judge Hager's address made a splendid impression. He spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen: The time has come when the voters of this commonwealth are to choose a governor and other public officers who for the ensuing four years are to perform the duties and exercise the powers pertaining to the different departments of the executive branch of the state government. It is for them to say not only who shall be the governing authorities, but also by what principles, in what manner, and under what policies the affairs of this commonwealth shall be conducted.

JUDGE S. W. HAGER.

of the state shall be administered. Indeed, if it is the province of the voters, their sovereign wisdom, to define and prescribe in a great measure, if not wholly, the very lines along which state affairs shall be conducted, as has been said, it is they who finally determine all matters of government. This being true it is of the highest importance that each individual voter, whatever may have been or may now be his party affiliation, should consider thoughtfully and carefully the claims made by the two political parties for his support. For if error creeps in, if mistakes are made and evil ensue, the blow falls heaviest upon the individual, whose property is taxed to support the state government and its institutions, and whose prosperity and happiness depend upon the policies and principles behind the administration of the state and the fidelity with which they are enforced. The ultimate responsibility, then, for good or evil in state affairs resting in the voter, it is but fair and just to him, in order that he may act with intelligence, that the candidates seeking his suffrage should give a full and complete exposure of their views and opinions on the various questions and issues which most nearly affect him and his interests, and the interests of the commonwealth, so that he should know these views, and, knowing them and thoughtfully considering them, if he chooses, he should support them conscientiously as his judgment may dictate.

Mr. Bryan says "platforms should be made by the states; that is, that the platform should be the expression of the wishes of the voters of the party, and not the arbitrary production of a few leaders." There are two ways in which such a consummation may be reached. The first is by the election of delegates to a nominating convention who, in their canvass for election, present for the consideration of the voters a statement of principles and policies for which they stand, and for which they will contend as members of the convention. Delegates elected under such conditions may truly speak for the voters, and in such way the voters may make the platform. But even then there is still opportunity for manipulation by the "fine Italian hand" of the arbitrary party leader. The second and surer way is through the medium of a party platform, in which the party nominees are chosen directly by the voters themselves, that candidate for nomination being chosen whose declaration of policies and principles and whose attitude toward public affairs prove satisfactory to the voters. In this way the platform is "made by the voters" beyond all question.

Nominated as I was in a primary election, after a canvass in which the principles and policies to which I hold were enunciated and discussed from one end of the state to the other, I come before you, my fellow citizens, the commissioned candidate of the Democratic party for the office of governor, with a platform made in just such way as Mr. Bryan truly says it should be made. Some of the more important declarative policies for the endorsement of the Democratic voters, briefly state, were the following:

Democratic Platform—Its Eleven Planks.

1. Insistence upon faithfulness and economy in the management of public affairs; demanding that public office shall be recognized as a public trust.

2. For the impartial and energetic enforcement of all laws.

3. That there shall be no expenditure of public money except in obedience to law, and that strict economy shall be observed in public expenditures.

4. In favor of fostering and developing the educational interests of the state.

5. Insistence upon just and reasonable rates and impartial service from the railroads within principles fair alike to the railroad and the public.

6. Requiring that all corporations shall bear their just and due proportion of the burden of taxation—no less and no more; and that there shall be to the full requirements of the revenue laws—all interests being placed on an equal footing in the matter of taxation.

7. Welcoming every reform in administrative methods that will reduce the cost of government to the people.

8. Favoring the making of an ever-respect position in the conduct of the state's public institutions, especially with regard to asylums for the insane.

9. Advocating the promotion of the material development of the state, and of conditions that invite the investment of capital within our borders.

10. Expressing opposition to all economic policies that make for the upbuilding of trusts or other combinations that operate to oppress both consumer and producer of the products of the farm.

11. Calling for faithful adherence to the constitution, and to the Jeffersonian doctrine of justice and equal rights to all.

Party Voters Made Platform in Primary.

Such declaration of principles and policies was presented to the Democrats in a public meeting, and in the state, and in awarding me the nomination, they gave it approval and adopted it by their direct votes.

Do not, therefore, come before you with a perfunctory platform, formulated by a few leaders and languidly adopted, without debate, by a meagerly attended convention, but with one that has been made and approved as their own, by the direct, untrammeled votes of thousands of my fellow-Democrats for whose consideration it was presented. And now, appearing before the people as a whole, as the representative of my party, I wish, to such extent as present conditions may require and individual candidates from my party may warrant, to emphasize and amplify the platform upon which the Democratic party has placed its seal of approval. I desire to make before you the support of every Democratic voter, and I trust that many others of my fellow citizens, approving the principles and policies of the Democratic representatives stand, will see that their duty, to themselves and to the state, also lies in the support of the Democratic ticket in this campaign.

Voters to Choose Between Parties.

Against the personal character and attainments of the gentleman who has the distinction of representing the Democratic party as its candidate for governor, I have not one word to say. This is not a contest between persons. This is not a contest in which the personally one candidate is to be weighed against the other. It is, in fact, not a contest to determine simply as to whether Mr. Wilson as an individual is a better man than Mr. Goebel, but a contest to determine whether the Democratic party or the Republican party shall prevail. It is a contest in which you as voters are to decide your preference between the two parties, and the state of Kentucky shall continue its progress under the wise, the businesslike, the economical, the safe and conservative policies which for the past eight years have characterized the Democratic administration; or whether we shall again be subject to the misrule, the mismanagement and the misrule attending a Republican administration of public affairs. Would you rather see our beloved state, in peace and quiet, move on in the line of progress, her place in the vanguard of states, her fertile fields full of the harvest; her cities aglow with the blaze of industry; her commerce and her material prosperity on every hand; her affairs carefully, ably and economically administered; free of debt; law and order prevailing; and the people of the state content with a wise and judicious administration of affairs which follows Democratic policies; or would you rather see her peace broken, her progress checked, her tax rate higher, her institutions mismanaged; incompetence and extravagance in state affairs, all of which marked the only Republican administration Kentucky has ever had, and which we might reasonably expect would characterize any Republican administration.

Would you not rather see the state quiet as the capital as it is today, undisturbed by the rattle of arms of the fiction; the machinery of government running smoothly and efficiently; each department of the state without challenge performing its functions, or would you rather again witness the scene of a governor calling out the state militia to prevent the election of a United States senator, and the unspeakable horror of riot and disorder that existed when the great common people's governor fell mortally wounded almost at the steps of the capitol, while the usurper Taylor surrounded himself with troops, of soldiers and denied to the civil authorities the right to search for the assassin who fired the fatal shot from a window of the office of the Republican secretary of state, and not more than fifty feet from where Taylor himself witnessed the tragedy?

It is for you to say which of these pictures the brightest and fullest of hope, God forbid that the people of this state should ever again witness such scenes as were enacted when the usurper and now fugitive Taylor filled the state capitol with hordes of outlaws to intimidate the legislature and precipitate a reign of riot and disorder.

State, Not National, Governments the Issue.

I confess a natural ambition to be the governor of this, the proudest of all the commonwealths; but that ambition is subservient to the interests of my people, and it is not upon any personal claim, but rather for the Democratic policies and principles I represent that I ask your support in this canvass.

The canvass in which we are engaged is a contest between the Republican and Democratic parties upon the policies of each as affecting the state, and is a contest in which national issues have no part except that upon the result of the ensuing election depends whether or not Kentucky may be committed to the support of its electoral vote for the Democratic nominee for president in 1908.

The Republican party has always been the party of centralization, of the party of high protection, under whose vicious principles great trusts have been formed and thrive. It is the party of the consumer, the party that has extorted from the great corporations fabulous contributions, under promise of favorable legislation, such funds so contributed to be used in corrupting and debauching the American ballot.

It is the same party that, by its insidious policy of protection, has placed the American consumer at the mercy of daily use, thus favoring capital and discriminating against labor. It is the same party that in Kentucky sought by violence and bloodshed to deprive the will of the people, and with the iron heel of the usurper trampled in the dust the constitution and the laws of the state. It is the same party that in convention assembled in 1900, when John W. Yerkes was nominated for governor, endorsed "without reserve" the resolution and the "arbitrary" course of W. S. Taylor, which resolute and patriotic course was a conspiracy, consummated in the assassination of our noble Goebel.

When a fearless and honest delegate boldly denounced that assassination upon the floor of the convention that nominated Mr. Taylor, he was denounced and vigorously declared that "the men who killed Goebel, even though they thought they were working in the right interest of the Republican party, should be hanged." Every one of them should die for this crime, and if the party wants success it must not shrink this issue, but must see that every man who advocates the assassination murder pays the full penalty of the law; he received not the slightest degree of sympathy, but on the contrary a substantial and active spread over that body of Republican delegates and an ominous frown of disapproval of that sentiment, marked with emphatic the features of all.

Kentucky Democrats Faithful to Promises.

The Democratic party is and has always been the party of the people. It is in favor of equal and equal justice to all, and against any class or caste legislation, by which one person profits and another suffers disadvantage. It believes that every man, whatever his position or however lowly may be his station in life, shall have an equal chance under the law and that he shall not be discriminated against. It is opposed to the policy of a protective tariff under the iniquitous operations of which great trusts are formed and fostered and reasonable competition, which is the life of free America's industries, is crushed out.

In Kentucky ours is not a party of promises only, but a party of performance as well. It has never made a pledge to the people of the state that it has not faithfully and scrupulously kept. Along its course are no haunting specters of unfaithfulness. The McChord railroad bill, promised by the Democratic party to the people, which was passed by the legislature of 1898 and vetoed by Governor Brown, has become a law, under the just operations of which freight rates in the commonwealth have been lowered and equated to the great benefit of the shipper.

A uniform school book bill, the enactment of which was pledged by the Democratic party to the people, has been placed upon the statute books, and under its provisions and operations the price of the school books used in our common schools has been reduced to the advantage of the children of the state. In these, as in all pledges made, the Democratic party has kept faith with the people and has not been content with mere vapors or high-sounding declarations.

Without any pledge the Democratic party has led the people of Kentucky such temperance legislation as the sentiment of the times demanded. As between these two parties and the policies and principles represented by each, you are to choose. You are the final arbiters, and to your judgment and choice the Democratic party pledges itself to bow in humble submission.

I love the state of Kentucky. Its very name is music to my ear. It is the synonym of bravery and of civility. In whatever land or clime a Kentuckian may roam, his energies are renewed, his strength increased and his courage quickened when he hears floating upon the air the strains of that sweetest of all songs, "My Old Kentucky Home."

For State Development, Industrial, Moral and Educational.

I am deeply interested in the development of our state in every sense that the word implies—Industrial, Moral and Educational. It is my desire to see floating upon the sea of commerce the yet untold and undeveloped resources of our great commonwealth.

To the mountains to the east, and in the lower lands to the west, are vast deposits of coal and other minerals, and even in the central counties are great veins and beds of mineral wealth, which, if properly developed and brought into market, so that the world may learn of our wealth and we may keep abreast of other states in the march of progress, I endorse, without reserve, every organization and every agency that has for its purpose the agricultural, industrial, mineral and commercial advancement of the state. As the running stream carries its sparkling crystals into the greater body of water into which it flows, so the state of Kentucky, in its development, carry into the markets of the world the wonderful resources of our state. To the end that this may be accomplished, I earnestly assure, I am in favor of wide and liberal laws affecting commercial enterprises. I am in favor of such laws as will open the doors of opportunity in the state and protect such investment, rather than laws that would frighten capital away or hedge about with too many and unjust restrictions, an unfavorable law as well as affluence tending to encourage the formation and establishment of new industries and plantations.

Every new industry established, every new commercial enterprise that is launched, every mine that is opened, every manufacturing plant that is started, every operation is of great benefit to the state, and though it may of itself mean but little, in a part of the great plan of development it may mean much. I find, which, under proper laws, in the natural order of things inevitably come.

Every governor it shall be my constant purpose to advocate and urge the passage of such laws as will hasten and insure this development and the opening of new fields of labor and enterprise for our young men, and constitute the state's greatest asset.

Kentucky's Future Depends Upon Education.

Hand in hand with the development of our state must go the education of our youth. In the advanced age, when competition is so sharp and wit meets wit in the keen encounter, education plays a most important part in the success of the state. The most powerful aid in the battle that is waged. There is no subject in which I am more deeply interested than in the education of our youth; for as the elders fall from the "spear and yellow leaf" and pass away, their places must be filled by those who have been prepared to take their place, the men and women of tomorrow. To the state this is a question of vital importance and one which should be most carefully considered. I am earnestly in favor of the improvement of our common school system and of increasing the educational facilities, so that a good common school education may be within the reach of even the poorest of the children of this commonwealth. It is with pleasure I review the progress that has been made in establishing and providing for two additional normal schools for the state, which action was a distinct advance toward the betterment of our teachers. We need more and better common schools and the improvement of our whole common school system. It is the duty of the state to make the more attractive and insuring a higher standard. The profession of teaching should be more fully recognized and the teaching of our state more fully appreciated. With the qualification that is essential to become a preceptor to the state, the profession of teaching should be held in as high a place of dignity and honor. There is no more heroic or important figure than that of the country school teacher, and no more noble or more sacred duty than that of the school house on the hill, trains up the young in the rudiments of education and starts them on their journey of independent life, and no more consecrated duty than that of the teachers of our city schools. There is no one single lot of men and women united in a single purpose who can or do render to the state better or greater service than do these self-sacrificing teachers of our state, less looking to the reward of purity and high quality in the food and drink prepared for their consumption.

The law now upon our statute books relating to this subject should be strengthened to such extent as may render them more useful, and such additional laws as may be necessary, in the light of experience, become needful, should speedily be enacted.

No Laws Unjust to Capital and Labor.

The question of capital and labor has been one fraught with much agitation covering a period of many years. It is a question, the solution of the difficulties of which, is as important to the one as to the other. With a proper understanding of the mutuality of their interests and with a proper regard for the rights of each on the part of the one or the other, there should be no differences between them. The one is equally important with the other, and the one is as much an enemy of the other as the laborer is an enemy of the capitalist.

The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be just or good. By the very nature of the nature of our great capital and labor are properly not antagonistic. They are naturally united in one and to the other by a bond of cooperation, and the interest of each to maintain, as neither can be effective without the other. An equal and exact balance between the two is essential to the maintenance of the balance, and the mutually cordial relations existing, should not be permitted by either to be disturbed by any law that would destroy the balance. The organization of the great army of wage earners in this country is essential for their self-preservation and mutual advancement. Capital is an enemy of the laborer, and the laborer cannot sell his hire and barter his brawn and muscle. Neither can do without the other, and no law that has a tendency to strengthen the one at the expense of the other; no law that discriminates against the one or the other can be the legislature for further assistance. In the cost of conveying patients to the asylums from April 1, 1906, when the board took charge of these institutions, to July 1, 1907, $13,243 was saved to the state and county, or more than enough to pay the cost of maintaining the board.

If elected governor the charitable institutions of this state will have my most serious thought and careful consideration. I shall be found urging and insisting always upon the promotion of every conceivable reform that may result in placing these institutions upon a higher plane.

The unfortunate inmates of these asylums should receive not only the tenderest care, but be attended by those trained to the ministrations of their needs and to an understanding of their malady.

Mr. Willson a Dodger on Temperance.

Passing to a subject that is forcing itself upon the minds of everybody and like Bango's ghost will not down, I want to say that there is a widespread and growing sentiment in this country that the abuses of the liquor traffic, though long indulged, should be speedily and effectively corrected.

As to the sale of the same, it is efficiently regulated. I noticed an open letter addressed to my opponent, Mr. Willson, the day before he opened his campaign. By The Mason Independent, a temperance paper of Mayfield, which is as follows: "Please do not attempt to dismiss the important part of your platform (the ninth plank) with a few meaningless platitudes and sentences. The temperance people of Mason county—your home county—are not a few in numbers. Not a few of them in your own party. The temperance people are not intending to vote for any man, of any party, who is not sound on the great question now stirring the minds of everybody before in her history. Speak plainly on the temperance question please. Your party has been publicly charged with making this campaign with a glass of whisky. You have taken a glass of water in the other, and that the temperance plank in your platform is to catch the temperance suckers. You may say that is not the point, and make such reply to your accusers as will strengthen your friends and win who are not fully persuaded. But it was particularly struck with the clear and lucid response of my distinguished opponent—listen to his reply. "He (the editor) wants me to know that he expects that I will answer his question in black and white in the Independent, without any evasion or flippancy, if I expect to have the votes of Mason county. Brother Purdon, he makes me think of a boy who lived next door to me who broke a bottle in the path where I passed barefoot, and it looks to me as if he is doing it purposely for me to get broken glass in his bare foot when I came back on this pilgrimage to the home of my tender years." Brother Purdon was not content with that answer, he makes it his paper that as a temperance advocate he cannot support Mr. Willson, who has repudiated his own platform and declared in favor of the present as a unit.

Democratic Candidate Makes Position Clear.

I have never been fanatical or unreasonable, but have had my independent views with respect to the liquor traffic and other whose views upon any question might differ from my own. My sympathies have always been with the cause of temperance, and I have always been in favor of such reasonable and feasible legislation as might be demanded by the sentiment of my state. I am in hearty accord with the sentiment of the best and most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

I endorse without reserve the action of the last Democratic general assembly in passing the "County Unit Law," which law I believe to be the most feasible temperance thought and heartily endorse any rational movement or law that tends to the moral uplifting and uplifting of the state wherever needed.

ment and will use their influence in an effort to secure it. The Republican party has had an opportunity to show to the people of Kentucky the character of an administration that might be expected of it if elected to office again be entrusted with power. In order that the voters may decide fairly and vote intelligently let us review the record of the Republican party as it will tell you. That is all my memory. You will recall that in 1895, the Republican school was "turn the rascals out and give us a look at the books and we will disclose such a record of mismanagement and misdeeds as will appall the most incredulous." The people voted to give them a look. For four years they looked at the people's record and found for that record which was to make bare the shortcomings of the Democratic party about which they had been carping for years, but like the "letter that was looked for" the report never came.

What "Look at Books" Showed.

Now let us see what the Republicans found when they got a look at the books. They found that the state's affairs had been miserably and financially conducted and every dollar paid into the treasury had been strictly accounted for.

The first acts of the Republicans were the issuance of $500,000 in bonds at 10 per cent. The tax rate 16 cents. The bonds sold for a premium of $39,071 and the 10 cents extra tax produced during their incumbency $1,140,000, making a total of bonds and interest of $1,639,071. With this additional large sum provided for them by legislative enactment they managed the state's affairs so poorly that when the Democrats came into possession of the office in June, 1900, there was a bonded debt of $1,000,000 hanging over the state, about $400,000 of unliquidated and unpaid claims, and a deficit in the school fund of $147,000, making a total of $1,547,000 for which the state was liable and only $363,334 in the treasury to pay it with. Since then the Democrats have squandered by the Democrats, this large debt has been paid and $2,146,521 appropriated and expended on our charitable and educational institutions and other most worthy causes, and all this with a tax rate of 2 1/2 cents less than the Republicans had.

Among these appropriations that have been paid are the following:

State Capital	$800,000
Asylums	380,153
State College and Normal	228,600
Penitentiaries	166,615
Confederate Home	195,239
Children's Home Society	55,000
Confederate Soldiers' Homes	100,000

These are the appropriations that Mr. Willson and his associates do not approve?

My colored brother, $15,000 has been appropriated and paid to the normal school, which is a state school established for your race. Now will Mr. Willson tell you of anything his party has done for you or your race? No, he says that the commonwealth is commonly designated as "Pie Hunters."

Property Values in Kentucky Increase.

Our opponents say that we have been wantonly extravagant with the people's money—that in order to meet the growing demand for more revenue, instead of increasing the tax rate we have, through the action of the legislature, increased the value of the taxable property. My friends the increase in property values in Kentucky since 1900 is $1,267,120,718 to $1,527,482,230 as shown by a compilation of such values recently gathered and published by the Manufacturers Record of Louisville. This increase of $260,361,512 indicates that a gain of 20 per cent has been made since then, and that property values in Kentucky today are over 40 per cent higher than at the time of the last Democratic election in the state, Texas, alone, on account of its large area, stands ahead of our own state.

The same security felt by the state in the state under Democratic administration is shown by the large increase in organized capital. During the four years of Bradley's administration $3,583,240 was incorporated under the laws to do business.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

From January 1, 1904, to June 30, 1907, three years and a half of the present administration, $197,195,830 was incorporated under the laws of Kentucky. And yet with all this splendid showing of increased property values, the total qualified value of all property assessed for taxation in Kentucky is $678,041,918 or slightly in advance of one-third of the actual value.

My fellow citizens since I have been at the head of the fiscal department of the state, I have endeavored to put the state on a sound financial basis.

which cannot be worked again upon the people of this state.

You may fool the people once but you must adopt another game if you expect it to work—your decoy must be changed.

The fact that not one dollar was discovered to have been paid out of the treasury by the Democrats without warrant of law is too fresh in the minds of the people of Kentucky for them to be deceived now.

My friends, the records in the state offices are open to the inspection of the public at all times. For the last sixty days two clerks in my office have been kept busy showing the records to Mr. Geo. L. Barnes, the postmaster at Frankfort, formerly a clerk under Republican Auditor Stone, and who is perfectly familiar with the records of that office; Mr. Todd, who was the private secretary of fugitive Taylor, and Mr. A. S. Bennett, secretary of the Republican campaign committee. These gentlemen, who were looking for campaign material, will say that every courtesy has been extended to them and every public transaction shown and explained to them.

We invite the most careful and searching inspection and examination of all the public records, and demand that Mr. Wilson and his associates give to the public specific reasons for the "theft" of the treasury and not confine themselves to glittering generalities, and hints at irregularities.

When the Democrats took charge of the office after Taylor and others had, like the Arab, "folded their tents and silently stolen away," it was discovered that through a Republican employee in the auditor's office $21,100 had fraudulently and feloniously disappeared from the treasury. After the theft had been discovered and the money paid back into the treasury by the head of the department, the culprit, who was known, was confined in office until the Democrats took charge. Now I ask, with which party would you trust the books?

Democratic Administration Proven Best.

I am fixed and firm in my belief that the greatest prosperity to the state can be attained only through the enforcement of Democratic policies and that under Democratic administration the highest happiness may be attained by her people. Aside from the gratification of any personal ambition I would like to see my party triumph, for I believe that under the administration of that party, greater impetus will be given to the development of the state's resources, and that higher confidence will be inspired and greater security felt by those who have investments in the state. With my party in power, better reforms in the conduct of the charitable and penal institutions of the commonwealth will be promoted, a better common school system insured, and all the business of the state will be conducted upon a wiser, sounder and more economical basis than would characterize the administration of the Republican party should it be entrusted with power.

Heretofore, and as the representative of that great party which has at all times stood for the interests of the great common people whose champion it has always been, I would not put the slightest barrier in front of the progressive movement of the state in the onward march to its ultimate destiny of civic and commercial greatness.

My party has behind it many decades of honorable dealings with my people, and before it many years of usefulness to the people of the commonwealth. It has to its credit a long record of unbroken promises, and the history of the state terms with the wise and salutary influences of its principles and its policies. In the peace, quiet and happiness of her people, Kentucky ranks with the best of the American states. Old Glory as it unfolds to the winds of heaven does not wave over a better people or a happier land. Nowhere in the "land of the free" are the people so happy with peace and happiness more than in the "Old Kentucky Home" whose door opens ever on hospitality to the stranger and never on suspicion to the waves of cheering sunlight roll and through whose windows pours in sweetest melody the music that God with his breath has laid in whispering symphony upon the trees. Nowhere under the stars of the blue canopy of God's eternal home are the people better governed, their interests better protected, or wiser and more beneficent laws exist than in our own beloved "Blue Grass State." Among our people national discontent is unknown and no complaint is made of existing conditions, except by the Republican "pie hunter," and it is with feelings of horror and dread that our people contemplate the grotesque possibility of a repetition of a Bradley or Taylor administration.

The proud and peace loving Kentuckian does not wish again to see the streets of our capital city run riot with an army of riot-raft whose mission it is to intimidate and overawe the public officials.

Memory of William Goebel Bill Bragg. Never again do we wish to see a brave, a conscientious and able servant shot down in cold blood at the very threshold of Kentucky's capital as he goes to perform his public duties while the assassin flees for safety to the outstretched arms of a Republican chief executive.

The spirit of the murdered Goebel hovering about the tomb to whose untimely embrace the bullet of the assassin consigned his mortal remains, cries out in protest. The bleeding form of the constitution trampled beneath the feet of the conspiring usurper, raises its head in supplication to protect it from the recklessness and lawlessness of the Republican party. The violated laws plead to be spared further depredation by that party, and the whole body politic protests against the violent onslaughts of that party which plunged the state almost into a whirlpool of anarchy.

Then let the voters of the state be true to themselves and true to the interests of the state by continuing in power the Democratic party through whose policies the prosperity of the people will be best promoted. Let the sunshine of contentment continue to shed its genial rays in the factory and in the mine, and the consciousness of safety and security mantle the brow of the farmer as he labors in his field. Let not the prosperity of the state be lessened or it progress checked, but in the mountains and the valleys, in the cities and the country, in the counting-house and in the home, be it ours to see that the utmost may be enjoyed, that wise and conservative laws, properly administered and enforced, will insure. Under a continuation of wise and beneficent Democratic policy, I can see in the distant solving mists of the future a noble and pulsant state rising in majesty from a broken lethargy, her fields, where the breezes make undulating waves of green and yellow, rich in the harvest of the grain; her mountains shorn of their barrenness, teeming with the activity of the miner; her factories, busy with the whirl of industry, turning the raw material into the finished product to supply the markets of the world; in her homes peace and happiness; in her cities, rest and contentment, and in the country the arteries of political and commercial activity being supplied from the loins of the untrammeled tiller of the soil. All these and more, my fellow citizens, does the Democratic party promise and that promise will be fulfilled.

ECZEMA COVERED HANDS 11 YEARS

Cracked and Bleeding in Many Places—Became so Bad that Nail Came Off Finger—Tried Many Remedies and Consulted Three Doctors, but Got No Relief—Now Cured and Is Very

PROUD OF HAVING TRIED CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I had eczema on my hands for about eleven years. The hands cracked open in many places and bled. One of my fingers was so bad that the nail came off. I had often heard of cures by the Cuticura Remedies, but had no confidence in them as I had tried so many remedies, and they had failed to cure me. I had seen three doctors, but got no relief. Finally my husband said that we would try the Cuticura Remedies, so we got a case of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent Pills. Of course I kept Cuticura Soap all the time for my hands, but the one cake of Soap and had a box of Cuticura Ointment. It is surely a blessing for me to have my hands cured, and I am very proud of having tried Cuticura Remedies, and recommend them to all suffering with eczema. Mrs. Eliza A. Wiley, F. D. 2, Liscumb, Iowa, Oct. 18, 1906."

ITCHING PIMPLES Resulted from Poisoning. Cured by Two Sets of Cuticura Remedies.

"My husband got a blood disease from wearing woolen underwear. He was all full of pimples, and he had an awful itching. He took a good many so-called remedies, and nothing did him good. Then we saw in a newspaper about Cuticura Remedies, and they cured him after using in all two sets of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent, and now I wouldn't do without Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. S. F. D. 2, Reading, Pa., Jan. 25, 1906."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Form of Itching, Chafing, and Skin Diseases of Cuticura Soap (See) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (See) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (See) to Purify the Blood. Complete Set of Cuticura Remedies, including Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent, for $1.00. Sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine.

Huyler's CANDLES

Are the Best. Get a box at

Cook & Higgins,

Druggists.

And Be Convinced.

DR. EDWARDS' SPECIALTY

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.

Free Tests Made for Glasses.

Up Stairs—Phone No. 1100. Main St.

It Builds Force

J-21

POLAR BEAR ACTS

The Carl Hagenbeck & Wallace Arctic Monsters in Marvelous Displays.

Greatest Animal Act of Any Time or Place.

The Carl Hagenbeck & Great Wallace circus presents more denizens of frozen wastes than ever arctic explorer looked upon at one time—gathered in a great steel-barred arena with a single intrepid trainer, they respond to his every wish and suggestion with intelligence so near human that it passeth understanding. Forming mountainous pyramids and arches with a mere man at the top; harnessed to go-carts and driven by their trainer; balancing on and rolling big globes; playing at saw-saw; riding tricycles; eating at table with great decorum; interpreting an amusing playlet by pantomime; simulating intoxication in an uproarious manner and accomplishing other incredible stunts.

TERRIFIC TUSSELE OF MAN AND BEAST.

In which the biggest of the bears and the trainer engage in a fearful struggle for athletic supremacy. Brute strength pitted against science and skill in a contest governed by Greco-Roman wrestling rules. The meetings of human champions become as children's play in contrast with thrilling contest of man and beast.

"GATHERING OF THE GALLANTS."

Another of Carl Hagenbeck & Great Wallace's Titanic triumphs.

Bringing together enemies of field, forest and frozen strand and making of them fast and abiding friends.

Introducing them in conjunctive performances that are astonishing beyond the power of words to depict.

A score of African lions and lionesses, royal Bengal tigers and tigresses, pumas, leopards polar bears and boarhounds, assembled at one time in the steel enclosure, conjointly doing the bidding of a single fearless man.

The Carl Hagenbeck & Great Wallace shows combined will be seen in Hopkinsville, Wednesday, Sept. 18.

Time to Stop It.

This reign of terror has existed far too long. It must be stamped out. The sound advice of the friends of the tobacco growers has gone unheeded.

This lawless class is a disgrace to the entire South. Is it possible that no member of the mob can be detected? It seems very plain that the authorities in the counties where lawlessness exists are at fault in not hunting down this band of criminals. Is it possible that the authorities, too, are intimidated?—Owensboro Messenger.

Worked Like a Charm.

Mr. D. N. Walker, editor of that spicy journal, the Enterprise, Louisville, Va., says: "I ran a nail in my foot last week and at once applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve. No inflammation followed; the salve simply healed the wound." Heals every sore, burn and skin disease. Guaranteed at R. C. Hardwick's, druggist, 25c.

HERE AND THERE.

Always keep a bottle of J. W. HARPER whiskey in sight. Good to look at and good to taste; and what's more a benefit to your health. Sold by W. R. LONG, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Drs. Oldham, Osteopaths, 705 S. Clay St., Hopkinsville, Ky.

Bonds for Sale.

For conservative Investors. Particulars on application.

WALTER F. GARNETT & CO. Financial Insurance Agents.

What is medicine for? To cure you, if sick, you say. But one medicine will not cure every kind of sickness, because different medicines act on different parts of the body. One medicine goes to the liver, another to the spine, Wine of Cardui to the womanly organs. So that is why has proven so efficacious in most cases of womanly disease. Try it!

Wine of Cardui

Mrs. Wm. Turner, of Bartonville, Ill., writes: "I suffered for years with female diseases, and doctored without relief. My back and head would hurt me, and I suffered agony with bearing-down pains. At last I took Wine of Cardui and now I am in good health." Sold everywhere, in $1.00 bottles.

WRITE US A LETTER

Write today for a free copy of valuable 64-page illustrated Book for Women. If you need Medical Advice, describe your symptoms, stating age, and reply will be sent in plain, sealed envelope. Address: Ladies Advisory Dept., The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

A Thrilling Drama.

A fine revival of the greatest of all romantic melodramas, "Monte Cristo," is to occupy the boards at the Opera House Wednesday night, Sept. 18. Manager Fred G. Conrad of the attraction promises that this most thrilling and absorbing of dramas will have its two requirements thoroughly well supplied, a good company and special equipment of scenery. The play as presented here will be perfected by one of the best of modern "Monte Cristo" star actors, Eugene Moore, who has presented the play with great success in all the leading cities of the country. It is well known that no play ever written has exceeded Monte Cristo in the power of its climaxes, or in the fascination of its story. The star part of Edmond Dantes, afterwards Count of Monte Cristo, has the added force given it by Mr. Moore during his hundreds of performances of the role. It is to be hoped that the laudable ambition of Mr. Conrad to provide the best kind of theatrical entertainment will be encouraged by a liberal patronage of this famous classic.

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Atkinson

KATCHY KITCHEN CABINETS

FROM

Keach's

Have no equal in saving the busy housewife steps and time by means of having a place for everything and everything in its place.

Economical to Use.

Drawer and Bins dust proof and sanitary, thus preventing loss of provisions.

ROOM SAVERS.

In that you can discard your kitchen table, flour bin, etc. Come around and let us show you.

▼ $7.50 AND UP. ▼

CASH OR CREDIT.

Plano Contest Tickets Given.

Remember that as soon as completed, we will occupy the Garnett building, Main Street, next to Kress' 10c store.

KEACH FURNITURE COMPANY.

NINTH STREET

BOTH PHONES